Claims 26-56 are pending in this application.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 26-56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term "at least...amino acids" in claims 26-56 is a term which renders the claims indefinite. The specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree of the term, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention since the array (due to sizes and the specific sequences of the molecules) of polynucleotides are too vast to envisage. That is, it is not possible to determine which nucleic acid molecule is intended since, for example, in the case of claim 1, the nucleic acid molecule may be from 9 contiguous nucleotides to 301 contiguous nucleotides. When considering the broadest reasonable scope, it seems that all instant claims may be interpreted as essentially equivalent since "at least three amino acids" may encompass fifty amino acids, and "at least fifty amino acids" encompasses fifty amino acids. However, which "fifty amino acids" are intended cannot be determined from the claims as drafted. Moreover, the recitation of "comprising a nucleotide portion" is improper since a portion of a nucleotide  $[N-O-PO_3^{2-}]$  results in an incomplete nucleotide rather than a portion of a nucleic acid molecule.
